Respond to the following questions as a reflective guide to evaluating the lesson that you selected for analysis. Attach these questions to the front of your word-processed evaluation.

1. Did you accomplish your objective? Did you assess the skill level of the children?
2. Consider your progression of tasks and discuss how you developed the content of your lesson with respect to each of the following teacher functions listed below.
 - a. extending tasks and intratask variations.
 - b. refining tasks/cues.
 - c. application tasks/challenges.
3. Explain your managerial task system. Why did you select the protocols that you did (i.e., start/stop signals, equipment distribution, maintaining appropriate behavior, etc.)? Be very specific.
4. What was challenging about teaching children in the 4th or 5th grade?
5. What went well in your lesson and would you do differently in this lesson if you could teach it again under the same conditions?
