Reflection Questions

Word-process your responses to the reflection questions.

1. Review your videotaped lesson and write down each task as it happens. Define it as an Informing, Extending, Refining, or Applying task and provide a brief description of each task.

2. What were the strengths and weaknesses in the development of the content of the lesson? Consider the following questions and justify your answers:
   a. were there too many or too few tasks, or was there a good balance of the types of tasks (E, R, A)??
   b. was there a logical progression?
   c. how did you use challenges (A) to enhance practice?
   d. amount of practice time?

3. Describe the managerial task system that you used during the lesson? What was good or bad about it? Be specific in regard to:
   a. use of stop/start signals
   b. equipment protocols
   c. maintaining appropriate behavior

4. Discuss your use of demonstration and learning/summary cues. How did this play into the development of the content of the lesson (think about the types of tasks: E, R, A)?

5. Describe how you used your voice and your body when teaching this lesson.

6. Briefly explain how this videotaped lesson influenced how you see yourself as a teacher.
